WHEREAS, it is well for the citizen of any of our states to enlarge his knowledge, to better acquaint himself with the social and economic conditions, and to appreciate to the fullest extent those riches inherent in the commonwealth in which he lives; and

WHEREAS, within a mere three score and two years from its inception, South Dakota has realized riches in many forms; riches in heritage from the strength of the pioneer stock upon which South Dakota was rounded; riches in agriculture through the industry and fortitude of the farmers and laborers who have promoted the state to a foremost position in our national economy; riches in manufacturing and mining through the utilization of our abundant natural resources; and riches in the development of power and irrigation through the harnessing of the mighty Missouri, resulting in a more plentiful life and in greater convenience for South Dakotans; and

WHEREAS, this land of infinite variety is rich not only in material wealth, but also in scenic wealth inviting to the eye: rolling plains, lush and fruitful, extending for horizons; sparkling lakes and streams luring the sportsman to their banks; and rugged knolls and towering mountains, guarding in their majestic silence the waters and the plains:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Sigurd Anderson, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of September 16-22, 1951, as

and earnestly encourage each and every citizen of our state to drop for the moment his everyday care , and seek refreshment and enjoyment through personal observation of the many riches and advantages inherent in the great state in which he lives.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 16th day of September, 1951.
